Amendments to Country Groups for Russia and Yemen Under the Export Administration Regulations

AGENCY: Bureau of Industry and Security, Commerce.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: In this final rule, the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) amends the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to revise the Country Group designations for the Russian Federation (Russia) and Yemen based on national security and foreign policy concerns, including proliferation-related concerns. This action is intended to facilitate and support accountability in connection with exports and reexports of items to these destinations under the EAR, and is part of a larger effort to restructure and re-align the Country Groups based on the aforementioned interests.

DATES: This rule is effective February 24, 2020.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Jodi.Kouts, Director, Chemical and Biological Controls Division, at email Jodi.Kouts@bis.doc.gov or by phone at (202) 482-6109.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) is currently undertaking a comprehensive review of all Country Groups in the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to ensure that they appropriately reflect current U.S. national security and foreign policy, including nonproliferation interests.

The foundation of this rule derives from the structure and purposes of the Commerce Country Chart found in Supplement No. 1 to part 738 and the Country Groups found in Supplement No. 1 to part 740 of the EAR. The Country Chart contains licensing requirements based on the destination to which items listed on the Commerce Control List (CCL) (Supplement No. 1 to part 774) will be exported or reexported and their corresponding “Reason for Control,” which is found in the CCL entry. An “X” in the cell where the “reason for control” column intersects with the row of the destination indicates a license requirement. Licenses are required to export and reexport items under the EAR for multilateral reasons (i.e., chemical and biological (CB), nuclear nonproliferation (NP), national security (NS), and missile technology (MT)); and for unilateral reasons (i.e., region stability (RS), crime control (CC) and anti-terrorism (AT)), as well as to implement controls for firearms convention (FC) and United Nations Security Council purposes. Controls for United Nations Security Council purposes are identified by the abbreviation “UN” in the applicable CCL entries. The “UN” reason for control is described in § 746. 2(b) of the EAR.

In combination with the CCL—the list of items classified and set-out as Export Control Classification Numbers (ECCNs) and arranged by categories—the Country Chart allows an exporter to determine whether a license is required for the export or reexport of an item on the CCL to the destinations on the Chart, unless otherwise specified in the particular ECCN entry on the CCL. The lists of Country Groups (A, B, D and E) set out countries with respect to relative risk and record of like-minded export controls, and importantly, as a basis for the availability of exceptions from license requirements described in part 740 (License Exceptions) of the EAR, provided the conditions for the use of the License Exception are met. Country Groups may also be used when describing license review policy.

The two lists—the Commerce Country Chart and Country Groups—were developed for separate purposes and allow for systematic licensing determinations. Country Groups are not reviewed unless a license is required by the Country Chart for exports and reexports of items listed in the CCL, unless, as mentioned above, otherwise indicated in the ECCN entry on the CCL.

Continuing to apply the structure and purposes of the Country Chart and Country Groups in furtherance of U.S. national security and foreign policy, including nonproliferation interests, this rule is part of BIS’s review of Country Groups. BIS has determined the current Country Group designations for Russia and Yemen should be changed to address U.S. national security, foreign policy, including proliferation concerns as further described below.

Specifically, this rule removes Russia from more favorable treatment under Country Groups A:2 and A:4 and adds it to Country Groups D:2 and D:4 based on nuclear and missile technology proliferation concerns, respectively. BIS also amends the licensing policy for related items to reflect a presumption of denial consistent with the Country Group changes. Separately, this rule removes Yemen from more favorable treatment under Country Group B and adds it to Country Group D:1 to reflect national security concerns.

As a result of these Country Group changes, certain license exceptions are no longer available for Russia and Yemen, and licenses are now required for those destinations in connection with exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country) of certain controlled items. In addition, certain transactions may be subject to more stringent licensing review policies or additional prohibitions as outlined in other parts of the EAR. With these actions, BIS seeks to ensure accountability for exports and reexports of items to these destinations. This rule is the first action related to the larger effort to re-structure and re-align the Country Groups set forth in Supplement No. 1 to Part 740 of the EAR.

Specific Amendments

Russia: Country Groups A and D

In this rule, BIS removes Russia from Country Groups A:2 (Missile Technology Control Regime) and A:4 (Nuclear Suppliers Group) to address U.S. concerns about diversion of U.S.-origin items to or from Russia for prohibited end uses and end users. This rule removes the “X” from Column “[A:2]” and the “X” from Column “[A:4]” in Supplement No. 1 to Part 740 for “Russia.” In relation to the changes to Country Groups A:2 and A:4 for Russia, this rule also adds Russia to Country Groups of concern D:2 (Nuclear) and D:4 (Missile Technology). This rule adds an “X” in Column “[D:2]” and an “X” in Column “[D:4]” in Supplement No. 1 to Part 740 for “Russia.” Consistent with adding “Russia” to Country Group “[D:2],” this rule adds an “X” in Column “NP 1” for “Russia” in Supplement No. 1 to Part 738—Commerce Country Chart. Finally, BIS revises the licensing policy for items to Russia to a policy of presumption of denial when the items are controlled for reasons described under § 742.2 (Proliferation of chemical and biological weapons), § 742.3 (Nuclear nonproliferation), or § 742.5 (Missile technology) of the EAR. However, with regard to NP and MT controls, applications for exports and reexports of items, which include commodities, software and technology, to Russia in support of U.S.-Russia civil space cooperation activities or commercial space launches will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

These amendments are consistent with the purpose of this rule to address U.S. concerns about Russia's lack of cooperation and accountability for U.S.-origin items and diversion to unauthorized or prohibited proliferation activities, end uses, and end users. Specifically, Russia has not been cooperative in allowing BIS to perform pre-license checks or post-shipment verifications related to U.S.-origin goods. The presumption of denial under § 742.2 further accentuates the seriousness with which the United States takes Russia's use of a "novichok" nerve agent in the attack against Sergei Skripal and his daughter Yulia Skripal in the United Kingdom on March 4, 2018.

Yemen: Country Groups B and D:1

In this rule, BIS removes Yemen from Country Group B and places Yemen in the country group of concern for national security reasons, Country Group D:1 (National Security). Specifically, this rule removes "Yemen" from Country Group B in Supplement No. 1 to part 740, and adds an "X" in Column "[D:1]" of that Supplement for "Yemen."

These changes are being made to address concerns about diversion of U.S.-origin items in Yemen for unauthorized purposes, including prohibited proliferation activities, end uses, and end users. In addition, there are concerns about the diversion to unauthorized and prohibited end uses and users of U.S.-origin items controlled for national security reasons. The ongoing conflict in Yemen has fostered international terrorism and instability in the Arabian Peninsula, including the proliferation of small arms, unmanned aerial systems, and missiles.

Impact of Removing Russia From Country Groups A:2 and A:4 and Adding to Country Groups D:2 and D:4

The removal of Russia from Country Groups A:2 and A:4 means a number of license exceptions are no longer available for Russia, and previously eligible items now require a license to Russia. Consistent with removing Russia from Country Groups A:2 and A:4 and adding it to Country Group D:2, a license is required for the export or reexport of items subject to NP 1 controls as identified in the applicable Export Control Classification Numbers (ECCNs) in Supplement No. 1 to part 774 (The Commerce Control List). Denoting this license requirement, this final rule adds an "X" in the NP 1 column of the nuclear nonproliferation column in Supplement No. 1 to part 738 of the EAR for Russia. License applications for these items will be reviewed with a presumption of denial. Consistent with adding Russia to Country Group D:2, the general prohibition in paragraph (a)(1)(i)(A) of § 744.6, Restrictions on certain activities of U.S. persons, will be applicable if the U.S. person exports, reexports, or transfers (in-country) with "knowledge" of a prohibited end use in or by Russia.

Consistent with adding Russia to Country Group D:4, the general prohibitions in paragraphs (a)(1) and (3) of § 744.3, Restrictions on certain rocket systems (including ballistic missiles, space launch vehicles and sounding rockets) and unmanned aerial vehicles (including cruise missiles, target drones and reconnaissance drones) end-uses, will be applicable if the exporter, reexporter, or transferor has "knowledge" the transaction involves one of those prohibited end uses in or by Russia. In addition, consistent with adding Russia to Country Group D:4, the general prohibitions in § 744.6 under paragraphs (a)(1)(i)(B) and (a)(2)(i) will be applicable if the U.S. person exports, reexports, or transfers (in country) with "knowledge" of one of those prohibited end uses in or by Russia, or engages in one of those prohibited activities with "knowledge" that it will directly assist such an end use.

Impact of Removing Yemen From Country Group B and Adding to D:1

The removal of Yemen from Country Group B means that the following license exceptions will no longer be available: § 740.3, Shipments of limited value (LVS); § 740.4, Shipments to Country Group B countries (GBS); and § 740.6, Technology and software under restriction (TSR). As a corollary, Yemen's addition to Country Group D:1 means that the following license exceptions, or other portions thereof, which include limitations related to Country Group D, will no longer be available: § 740.9, Temporary imports, exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country) (TMP); § 740.10, Servicing and replacement of parts and equipment (RPL); § 740.12, Gift parcels and humanitarian donations (GFT); § 740.14, Baggage (BAG); § 740.15, Aircraft and vessels (AVS); § 740.16, Additional permissive reexports (APR); and § 740.17, Encryption, commodities, software, and technology (ENC).

Section 742.4(b)(2) of the EAR states the licensing policy for exports and reexports of national-security controlled items to destinations in Country Group D:1. That licensing policy is to approve applications when BIS determines, on a case-by-case basis, that the items are for civilian use or otherwise would not make a significant contribution to the military potential of the country of destination that would prove detrimental to the national security of the United States. License applications to export or reexport national security controlled items to Yemen will now be subject to this licensing policy.

In addition, Yemen's placement in Country Group D:1 will result in the imposition of restrictions on the export, reexport, and transfer (in-country) of certain microprocessors to military end uses and end users in Yemen, pursuant to § 744.17, Restrictions on certain exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country) of microprocessors and associated "software" and "technology" for 'military end uses' and to 'military end users.' Furthermore, restrictions on certain exports and reexports to vessels and aircraft located in Yemeni ports or registered in Yemen will become effective pursuant to § 744.7, Restrictions on certain exports to and for the use of certain foreign vessels or aircraft. Finally, the addition of Yemen to Country Group D:1 will expand the licensing requirements for reexports of the foreign-produced direct product of U.S.-origin technology and software to Yemen pursuant to § 736.2(b)(3), General Prohibition Three.

Export Control Reform Act of 2018

On August 13, 2018, the President signed into law the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019, which included the Export Control Reform Act of 2018 (ECRA) (50 U.S.C. 4801–4852). ECRA provides the legal basis for BIS's principal authorities and serves as the authority under which BIS issues this rule. As set forth in Section 1768 of ECRA, all delegations, rules, regulations, orders, determinations, licenses, or other forms of administrative action that were made, issued, conducted, or allowed to become effective under the Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 U.S.C. 4601 et seq.) (as in effect on August 12, 2018, and as continued in effect pursuant to the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.)), or under the Export Administration Regulations, and were in effect as of August 13, 2018, shall continue in effect according to their terms until modified, superseded, set aside, or revoked under the authority of ECRA.

Rulemaking Requirements

1. Executive Orders 13563 and 12866 direct agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety effects, distribute impacts, and equity). Executive Order 13563 emphasizes the importance of quantifying both costs and benefits, of reducing costs, of harmonizing rules, and of promoting flexibility. This final rule has been designated a “significant regulatory action,” although not economically significant, under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866. This final rule will support the national security and foreign policy objectives of the United States by broadening the U.S. Government’s visibility into exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country), for a country of concern when the transactions involve national security controlled items and items controlled for proliferation reasons.

2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person may be required to respond to or be subject to a penalty for failure to comply with a collection of information, subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.) (PRA), unless that collection of information displays a currently valid Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Control Number. This regulation involves a collection currently approved by OMB under control number 0694–0088, Simplified Network Application Processing System. This collection includes, among other things, license applications, and carries a burden estimate of 42.5 minutes for a manual or electronic submission for a total burden estimate of 31,878 hours. BIS expects the burden hours associated with this collection to increase slightly by 4 hours for an estimated cost increase of $120. This increase is not expected to exceed the existing estimates currently associated with OMB control number 0694–0088.

3. This rule does not contain policies with federalism implications as that term is defined under Executive Order 13132.

4. Pursuant to section 1762 of the Export Control Reform Act of 2018 (50 U.S.C. 4801–4852), which was included in the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019, this action is exempt from the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553) requirements for notice of proposed rulemaking, opportunity for public participation, and delay in effective date.

5. Because a notice of proposed rulemaking and an opportunity for public comment are not required to be given for this rule by 5 U.S.C. 553, or by any other law, the analytical requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq., are not applicable. Accordingly, no regulatory flexibility analysis is required, and none has been prepared.

6. This final rule is not subject to the requirements of Executive Order 13771 (82 FR 9339, February 3, 2017) because it is issued with respect to a national security function of the United States. The cost-benefit analysis required pursuant to Executive Orders 12866 and 13563 indicates that this rule is intended to improve national security as its primary direct benefit. Specifically, revising the status of the Country Group designations for Russia and Yemen in this rule protects the United States and allies by serving the priorities of reducing the risk that exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country) of items subject to the EAR could be diverted and contribute to weapons of mass destruction proliferation and the military capability of countries of concern, contrary to U.S. national security interests. Accordingly, this rule meets the requirements set forth in the April 5, 2017 OMB guidance implementing Executive Order 13771 (82 FR 9339, February 3, 2017), regarding what constitutes a regulation issued “with respect to a national security function of the United States,” and is, therefore, exempt from the requirements of Executive Order 13771.

Savings Clause

Shipments of items removed from license exception eligibility or eligibility for export, reexport or transfer (in country) without a license as a result of this regulatory action that were on dock for loading, on lighter, laden aboard and exporting carrier, or en route aboard a carrier to a port of export, on February 24, 2020, pursuant to actual orders for exports, reexports and transfers (in country) to a foreign destination, may proceed to that destination under the previous license exception eligibility or without a license so long as they have been exported, reexported or transferred (in-country) before 30 days from date of publication. Any such items not actually exported, reexported or transferred (in-country) before midnight on March 25, 2020 require a license in accordance with this final rule.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

20 CFR Part 404

[Docket No. SSA-2020-0001]

RIN 0960-A146

Extension of Expiration Dates for Three Body System Listings

AGENCY: Social Security Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: We are extending the expiration dates of the following body systems in the Listing of Impairments (listings) in our regulations: Special Senses and Speech, Hematological Disorders, and Congenital Disorders That Affect Multiple Body Systems. We are making no other revisions to these body systems in this final rule. This extension ensures that we will continue to have the criteria we need to evaluate impairments in the affected body systems at step three of the sequential evaluation processes for initial claims and continuing disability reviews.

DATES: This final rule is effective on February 24, 2020.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Cheryl A. Williams, Director, Office of Medical Policy, Social Security Administration, 6401 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, MD 21235-6401, (410) 965-1020.

For information on eligibility or filing for benefits, call our national toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, or TTY 1-800-325-0778, or visit our internet site, Social Security Online, at <http://www.socialsecurity.gov>.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

We use the listings in appendix 1 to subpart P of part 404 of 20 CFR at the third step of the sequential evaluation process to evaluate claims filed by adults and children for benefits based on disability under the title II and title XVI programs.¹ 20 CFR 404.1520(d), 416.920(d), 416.924(d). The listings are in two parts: Part A has listings criteria for adults and Part B has listings criteria for children. If you are age 18 or over, we apply the listings criteria in part A when we assess your impairment or combination of impairments. If you are under age 18, we first use the criteria in part B of the listings when we assess your impairment(s). If the criteria in part B do not apply, we may use the criteria in part A when those criteria consider the effects of your impairment(s). 20 CFR 404.1525(b), 416.925(b).

Explanation of Changes

In this final rule, we are extending the dates on which the listings for the following three body systems will no longer be effective as set out in the following chart:

Listing	Current expiration date	Extended expiration date
Special Senses and Speech 2.00 and 102.00	April 24, 2020	June 3, 2022.
Hematological Disorders 7.00 and 107.00	May 18, 2020	June 3, 2022.
Congenital Disorders That Affect Multiple Body Systems 10.00 and 110.00.	April 3, 2020	June 3, 2022.

We continue to revise and update the listings on a regular basis, including those body systems not affected by this final rule.² We intend to update the three listings affected by this final rule as necessary based on medical advances as quickly as possible, but may not be able to publish final rules revising these listings by the current expiration dates. Therefore, we are extending the expiration dates listed above.

Regulatory Procedures

Justification for Final Rule

We follow the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) rulemaking procedures specified in 5 U.S.C. 553 in promulgating regulations. Section 702(a)(5) of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 902(a)(5). Generally, the APA requires that an agency provide prior notice and opportunity for public comment before issuing a final regulation. The APA provides exceptions to the notice-and-comment requirements when an agency finds there is good cause for dispensing with such procedures because they are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest.

We determined that good cause exists for dispensing with the notice and public comment procedures. 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B). This final rule only extends the date on which the three body system listings will no longer be effective. It makes no substantive changes to our rules. Our current regulations³ provide that we may extend, revise, or promulgate the body system listings again. Therefore, we determined that opportunity for prior comment is unnecessary, and we are issuing this regulation as a final rule.

In addition, for the reasons cited above, we find good cause for dispensing with the 30-day delay in the effective date of this final rule. 5 U.S.C.

553(d)(3). We are not making any substantive changes to the listings in these body systems. Without an extension of the expiration dates for these listings, we will not have the criteria we need to assess medical impairments in the three body systems at step three of the sequential evaluation processes. We therefore find it is in the public interest to make this final rule effective on the publication date.

Executive Order 12866, as Supplemented by Executive Order 13563

We consulted with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and determined that this final rule does not meet the requirements for a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866, as supplemented by Executive Order 13563. Therefore, OMB did not review it. We also determined that this

¹ We also use the listings in the sequential evaluation processes we use to determine whether a beneficiary's disability continues. See 20 CFR 404.1594, 416.994, and 416.994a.

² We last extended the expiration dates of the Special Senses and Speech and Congenital Disorders That Affect Multiple Body Systems body system listings on April 2, 2018 (83 FR 13862) and we last updated the Hematological Disorders body system listings on April 17, 2015 (80 FR 21159).
